Dick Neidermyer, Hometown Hero

"It is a great challenge to one's mind and physical abilities."

Meet your neighbor,
Dick Neidermyer.

Dick's involvement with Lititz Fire Company started early. As a child, he was always fascinated with fire engines. By age 16, he was volunteering as a junior firefighter.

As the years moved on, so did his many roles in the fire department. In 1983, he was named Fire Chief. Dick now serves as company Treasurer.

This year marks Dick's 50th year of service. The community has certainly benefited from his hard work, but in return

Lititz has given Dick much joy. "It has been a pleasure volunteering all these years," Dick recalls with a glimmer in his eyes.

Not only is it rewarding, it's an engaging experience. "It is a great challenge to one's mind and physical abilities," Dick believes. To this Hometown Hero, volunteering is reaching out beyond oneself and making a difference.

Dick and other volunteers would welcome the chance to show you how you can be part of the fire service. No, you don't have to commit to 50 years of service. But why not follow Dick's lead and help out where you can?
