

HOMETOWN HERO PROFILE #2

Jonathan Lamb, Hometown Hero

"It's a great feeling to give back."

Meet your neighbor,
Jonathan Lamb.

Like a lot of boys with great dads, Jon Lamb wanted to follow in his father's footsteps.

In his case, those steps led directly to the volunteer fire service, a journey driven by a passion to serve like his dad did while Jon was growing up.

For nearly 18 years, Jon has been a certified firefighter with the Rothsville Volunteer Fire Company. These days he's an officer in the company and holds the rank of lieutenant.

"It's a great feeling to give back to serve our community," is how this husband, dad, businessman and Hometown Hero
explains his enthusiasm for volunteering.

But wait! There's more. Not only is Jon a volunteer firefighter, he does double duty as a volunteer Rothsville ambulance driver. "I enjoy helping our neighbors," Jon
unassumingly says.

Now, it's time for the "neighbors" to step up and help out. Your hometown fire and ambulance companies need you today.

Learn more. There's no obligation.

Everyone needs more heroes these days. You could be one.
